DESCRIPTION

Dutch Spiral's slide valves are developed for a simple and effective way of intercepting the flow of many kind of products. The slide valves are widely used in a variety of sectors.

The design is always optimized according to Dutch Spirals profound experience in the field of handling bulk materials

We have a various of options in the way the slide valves are driven. This can either be by hand, by pneumatics, by electric lineators or electric actuators.

The slide valves are also equipped with proximity switches or reed contacts to detect the positioning. As an extra option they can be equipped with ultrasonic or radar sensors to detect the level of the product below the slide valves.
